About the Harvard HPAIR Leadership Program

Spread over 3 action-packed days, the mission of the Harvard HPAIR Leadership Program is to indulge high-school students with strong leadership potential in immersive learning engagements, discussions, and mentorship. The program will focus on leadership, problem-solving, communication, public speaking, and critical thinking while working with students toward a final 'Actionable Project' under the guidance of Student mentors. These skills are essential for tomorrow's change makers and future leaders.

Students will work in small groups throughout the program on an impactful 'Actionable Project' designed to tackle real-world problems, stimulate ideas for future collaborative projects, and mold young learners into future leaders. Participants will immerse themselves in a classroom experience inspired by some of the most engaging subjects taken by the mentors themselves and participate in leadership and collaborative work activities during the course of the program.

What will students gain?

- Learn a systematic, comprehensive approach to solving real-world problems from trained and dedicated HPAIR mentors.
- Hone your thought process to become more analytical and creative.
- Use data to quantify and validate your proposed solutions.
- Practice your communication skills to convey your recommendations effectively.
- Brainstorm practical methods to implement your solutions.
- Enhance your portfolio with a certificate from Harvard College Project for Asian & International Relations, and through actionable projects.

This exclusive program will provide students with a practical learning environment, enabling them to closely interact with peers, mentors, and leaders, and participate actively in live discussions and debates.

We urge parents to recognize this unique opportunity and enroll your children for this exclusive program. In case of any queries, you may contact:
