Holiday Assignment Portfolio	ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE	Note: To be written in practical notebook under portfolio section

Activity: 1 My Goodness

Purpose: To understand how our decisions get influenced by our personal morals, values and ethics!

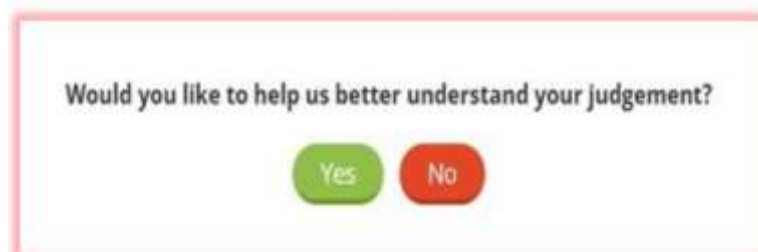

This is just an exercise to uncover our biases and thought processes behind making certain decisions. This will help us in producing a framework which can aid in making decisions which are ethically sounder.

Say: “Carefully read the descriptions provided that help you decide on donating. Explore your decision-making ability.”

Visit the website – <https://www.my-goodness.net/>

Instructions:

- Take a quick look at the video to learn more about the game!
- Players must make 10 decisions on how they would like to make a charitable donation. In most cases, players will receive details about the recipients. They will also be given information on the intended use of the money they are donating. In a few instances, this may be hidden from them, however they can choose to reveal it.
- This activity aims to understand an individual’s judgment. We are looking to discover potential biases within us!
- Data is collected anonymously and with your consent.
- If you wish to delve deeper and explore your own decision-making, click on “yes.”

After clicking on “yes” you will be taken to a short survey.

After the survey has been filled, you will see interesting insights about your decisions

1. Did you discover any internal biases in your decisions?
2. Do you agree with the results shared by the game?
3. List at least 3 factors which knowingly or unknowingly influence our decision-making.

Activity: 2: Interests and Abilities Worksheet

Instructions:

- Each student has to complete the given worksheet, containing a list of statements and questions.
- Each student has to be real and honest when filling the worksheet as it is for their own understanding of themselves.
- If they are not real and honest, they will get incorrect results about their own interests and abilities.
