The power of strong storytelling has never been in dispute, gripping man's imagination and stirring humanity for centuries now. Indeed, storytelling has been one of the most effective tools of communication and the bright young students of Class III seemed to comprehend this all too well – entertaining with a scintillating Storytelling Competition at the Indian School Wadi Kabir. The children spun telling tales, regaled with mirth, advanced worthwhile causes, spread knowledge and conjured up grand visions with spellbinding oration and artistry far beyond their tender age – and each one emerged a winner.
