Sushil lives on the sixth floor of a huge building. The building is surrounded by many neem trees. Several birds sit on the branches and chirp in the morning. The building has a shaded parking lot, which can house two hundred cars at a time. The building also has a beautiful garden, where many people come for a morning walk. Most of the residents of the building are Indians but there are a few Omani families too. The building has two lifts and four gates. There are sixty apartments in the building. All the residents enjoy together on festivals. They love and respect each other's culture and traditions.
