Adverbs tell us more about verbs. They also modify the meaning of an Adjective or another Adverb. They tell us how, where, when and how often an action takes place.

KINDS OF ADVERBS

ADVERBS OF MANNER:

They tell us 'how' an action takes place.

E.g.1. Rohan speaks loudly.

How does Rohan speak?

He speaks loudly.

'Loudly' is the Adverb of Manner in the given sentence.

E.g. 2. Sheena dances gracefully.

How does Sheena dance?

She dances gracefully.

'Gracefully' is the Adverb of Manner in the given sentence.

How Adverbs are formed:

1. Adverbs of Manner are formed by adding the suffix -ly to the main Adjective.

e.g. brave-bravely

honest- honestly

quick- quickly

beautiful-beautifully

2. For Adjectives that end with 'y' we omit the 'y' and add 'ily' to form the Adverb of Manner

E.g. happy- happily
greedy- greedily

3. For Adjectives that end with 'le' we omit the 'e' and add 'ly' to form the Adverb.

E.g. simple- simply gentle- gently

4. Irregular Adverbs: Some Adverbs keep the same spelling as the adjective to which they are related.

E.g. hard- hard fast- fast

ADVERBS OF PLACE:

An Adverb of Place tells 'where' the action takes place. It is usually placed after the verb or the object.

E.g. 1. James played indoors as it was raining heavily.

Here the word 'indoors' is the Adverb of Place, whereas 'played' is the verb.

E.g. 2. Alia carried the book upstairs.

Here the word 'upstairs' is the Adverb of Place, whereas 'carried' is the verb.
