

INDIAN SCHOOL AL WADI AL KABIR

DEPARTMENT OF EVS (2025 – 2026)

TOPIC: STORY OF CLOTH MAKING, SEASONS & FESTIVALS

CHAPTER CHECKUP WORKSHEET

RESOURCE PERSON: Mrs. Savitha D'Souza

NAME: _____ CLASS: II SEC: _____ DATE: _____

Q1. Give one-word answers for the following.

1. Snake boat races are the main attraction of this festival.

2. Some people use heaters or light small fires to keep themselves warm in this season.

3. Fibres which we get from nature.

4. We eat fruits like mango and watermelon in this season.

5. We wear new clothes, decorate our homes, buy sweets and cook special food during this time.

Q2. Write the difference between Natural and Man – Made materials.

	Natural Material		Man – Made Material
1.		1.
2.		2.
3.		3.
4.		4.

Q3. Observe the picture, read, think and answer the questions given below.

1. Amit lives in a country full of different cultures and is called the land of festivals. People from different places and religions celebrate these festivals together with joy. These special days are not just about fun—they show love, thankfulness, and being together. Amit feels proud of his country.

a. Which country called 'The land of festivals' does Amit belong to?

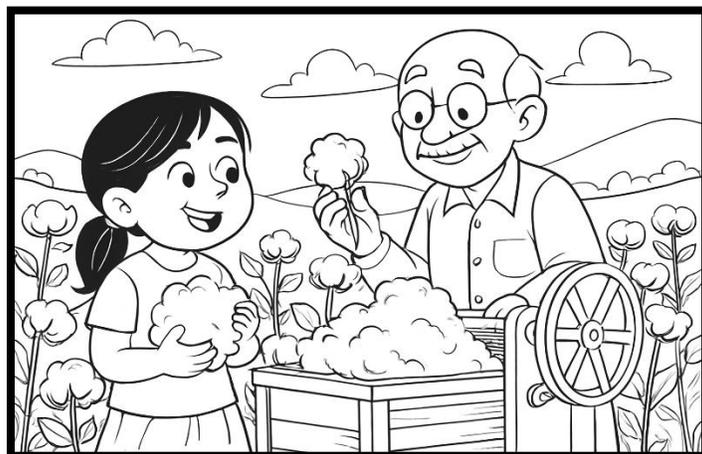

a. Name any four festivals of that country?

2. One sunny morning, Jia visited her grandfather's farm. She saw fluffy white balls growing on green plants. "That's cotton!" Grandpa smiled. He showed her how the cotton was picked gently by hand, cleaned to remove seeds, and then spun into thread using a big machine. Jia watched curiously as the thread was woven into soft cloth. "So, this is how my T-shirt begins its journey!" she giggled, hugging a piece of fresh cotton.

a. What did Jia see growing on the farm?

b. What is the process of converting cotton into thread known as?

c. What did Jia learn about how her T-shirt was made?

Q4. Illustrate any two seasons and name them in the space provided.

1. <hr/>	2. <hr/>
---	---

Q5. Fill in the blanks.

1. The activity of making threads into cloth on a machine called loom is called _____.
2. 'Gujhiya' is a special sweet dish prepared during the _____ festival.
3. _____ is the festival of the bond of love between brothers and sisters.
4. The days are short and nights are long during _____ season.
5. The _____ gives out a long silky thread from its mouth.
6. Nylon, rayon and terylene are _____ fibres.

Q6. "Listen, Think, and Write!"

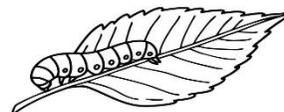

Dictation test on the topic 'Story of cloth making, Seasons and Festivals'.

1.	2.	3.
4.	5.

Silkworm Surprise!

Silkworms can grow almost 10,000 times heavier than when they hatch. They munch on mulberry leaves and spin cocoons made of one long silk thread—sometimes over 900 meters long!

INDIAN SCHOOL AL WADI AL KABIR

DEPARTMENT OF EVS (2025 – 2026)

TOPIC: STORY OF CLOTH MAKING, SEASONS & FESTIVALS

CHAPTER CHECKUP WORKSHEET

RESOURCE PERSON: Mrs. Savitha D'Souza

Answer key

NAME: _____ CLASS: II SEC: _____ DATE: _____

Q1. Give one-word answers for the following.

1. Snake boat races are the main attraction of this festival.

Onam

2. Some people use heaters or light small fires to keep themselves warm in this season.

Winter season

3. Fibres which we get from nature.

Natural fibres

4. We eat fruits like mango and watermelon in this season.

Summer season

5. We wear new clothes, decorate our homes, buy sweets and cook special food during this time.

Festivals

Q2. Write the difference between Natural and Man – Made materials.

	Natural Material		Man – Made Material
1.	We get these from nature.	1.	These are made in factories.
2.	Eg: cotton, silk, wool.	2.	Eg: nylon, rayon, terylene.
3.	These last for less time.	3.	These are durable and attractive.
4.	These are used to make sweaters, scarves, frocks, mufflers etc.	4.	These are used to make curtains, designer clothes etc.

Q3. Observe the picture, read, think and answer the questions given below.

1. Amit lives in a country full of different cultures and is called the land of festivals. People from different places and religions celebrate these festivals together with joy. These special days are not just about fun—they show love, thankfulness, and being together. Amit feels proud of his country.

a. Which country called 'The land of festivals' does Amit belong to?

Amit belongs to the country called India.

b. Name any four festivals of that country?

The four festivals of this country are Holi, Raksha Bandhan, Onam and Dussehra.

2. One sunny morning, Jia visited her grandfather's farm. She saw fluffy white balls growing on green plants. "That's cotton!" Grandpa smiled. He showed her how the cotton was picked gently by hand, cleaned to remove seeds, and then spun into thread using a big machine. Jia watched curiously as the thread was woven into soft cloth. "So, this is how my T-shirt begins its journey!" she giggled, hugging a piece of fresh cotton.

a. What did Jia see growing on the farm?

Jia saw cotton plants on the farm.

b. What is the process of converting cotton into thread known as?

The process of converting cotton into thread is known as spinning.

c. What did Jia learn about how her T-shirt was made?

Jia learnt how the cotton was picked by hand, cleaned to remove the seeds, and then spun into threads by using the spinning machine.
The threads are then woven into cloth on a weaving machine.

Q4. Illustrate any two seasons and name them in the space provided.

1. <hr/>	2. <hr/>
--	--

STUDENTS DISCRETION

Q5. Fill in the blanks.

1. The activity of making threads into cloth on a machine called loom is called weaving.
2. 'Gujhiya' is a special sweet dish prepared during the holi festival.
3. Raksha Bandhan is the festival of the bond of love between brothers and sisters.
4. The days are short and nights are long during winter season.
5. The silkworm gives out a long silky thread from its mouth.
6. Nylon, rayon and terylene are man-made fibres.

Q6. "Listen, Think, and Write!"

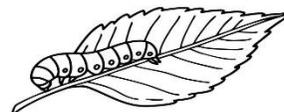

Dictation test on the topic 'Story of cloth making, Seasons and Festivals'.

1.	2. STUDENTS DISCRETION	3.
4.	5.

Silkworm Surprise!

Silkworms can grow almost 10,000 times heavier than when they hatch. They munch on mulberry leaves and spin cocoons made of one long silk thread—sometimes over 900 meters long!